WANT THEIR DEPOSITS. Merchants' Trust Committee Again Urger

Acceptance of Jones Bid. A representative of E. Clarence Jones of the Merchants Trust Company with a cash offer for the remaining assets of the company. Vice-President King of the New York Trust Company, which is one of the receivers, said that the bid could hardly be considered because a large part of the assets is cash and there was no object in selling cash for cash.

Shortly afterward a depositors' committee called and urged Mr. King to accept the bid. They say they were told that the bid was $2,215,000 and that the receiver would not accept less than $2,300,000. Mr. King said later, however, that the bid was $2,150,000.

The committee reported to the Depositors' Protective Association last night at 917 Eighth avenue. Its report said that it had told Receiver Dougles Robinson that it had a bona fide bidder, E. Clarence Jones & Co., for the company's assets, and that Mr. Jones's bid was $2,215,000.

Mr. Robinson, the committee reported, acknowledged the receipt of the bid, but told the committee that after the value put on the company's assets by the State appraisers he did not think the bid was high enough and that he had refused it. He told the committee that if they could its acceptance through the agency of the Supreme Court.

Another suggestion was that the depositors should accept 95 cents on the dollar and that on that understanding the receivers should be asked to accept the Jones bid.

The association also decided to request the receivers to allow a committee of three to confer and act with them frequently.

One of the receivers said yesterday that negotiations are now under way for the sale of the Rutland securities for $450,000.

The securities, which were sold at auction on Wednesday, were bought in by the receivers in order to establish a price. The securities consisted chiefly of Rutland obligations of a par value of $2,253,000 and brought $265,000.

WINS CASE AGAINST THE ERIE. Railroad Held Liable for Damage to Long Confined Live Stock.

NEWPURGH, N. Y., Aug. 10.—The Appellate and several were damaged by long confinement without food and water.

Judge Maddox in June, 1904, dismissed the complaint, holding that the railroad was exempted by the uniform live stock contract signed by Mr. Gallowsy.

The Appellate Division holds that the railroad is liable because of negligence and under the State law which prohibits the confining of live stock for longer than swenty-four hours without food and water.

GOSSIP OF WALL STREET.

The spectacular advances in high priced tooks, which have been for several weeks the chief feature of the market, combined yesterday with the very favorable Government report to give strength to the whole list, and at the close there was more appearance of a real built market than at any time since the winter campaign. It was unmistakable that there was more public buying in the market than there had been before on this advance.

day's close, showed a gross gain of 80 points more than 100 points from last fall. Northern Pacific, which has declined several points from its high price a few days ago, is still 44 points above its low price in the spring.

Illinois Central is up 26 points. Omaha at its high price yesterday of 199 showed a gain of 29 points. These are some of the most notable gains. The purchase of a few hundred shares of Lake Shore advanced its price

7 points to 325. New Haven advanced 5% to 209%; Pullman advanced 1% to 242%. It is to be noted that some of the advances yesterday were on active trading. In Dela-

This was the tone of many despatches sent out during the afternoon, and the strength of the market at the close was largely the re-

market because of doubts as to the condition of the wheat crop, became the market leader

> Company Expects to Supply Power Between Syracuse and Niagara Falls, and Joseph G. Robin Says That Contracts Have Been Made to Supply N. Y. Central.

Joseph G. Robin, president of the Bank of Discount and the Washington Savings Bank of this city, announced yesterday that he had sold the control of the Niagara, Lockport and Ontario Power Company and of its holding company, the Iroquois Construction Company, to a syndicate headed by the Westinghouse interests and John J. Albright of Buffalo. The purchasing syndicate, he said, represents a combination of the Westinghouse, Albright and New York Central interests, together with those of Horace G. Andrews Cleveland, Ohio. The financing of the companies will be carried on by the Marine National Bank of Buffalo.

The Niagara, Lockport and Ontario Power Company was organized in 1894, with a capital of $10,000,000, to develop with a capital of stockers, we develop 200,000 horse-power at Niagara Falls. The company had a long legislative fight with its rival concerns, but according to Mr. Robin has now made substantial progress toward the object which it has had in view, the supplying of power to customers in cities from Niagara Falls to Syracuse. The transmission line projected to Syracuse has already been built from the Niagara River three-quarters of the way to Lockport and is now rapidly being pushed toward Rochester. Contracts have been made, according to Mr. Robin, to supply electrical power to the New York Central Railroad. Gen. Francis V. Greene has been elected president of the Iroquois Construction Company under the new arrangement, and H. H. Westinghouse has been elected to the directorate of the power company. Mr. Robin received a profit of $500,000 in turning over the property, and his associate, Cassius M. Wicker, received $250,000. 200,000 horse-power at Niagara Falls. The Washington at noon for the first time Heretofore the report has been made public at 4 P. M. The change was made because the members of exchanges in this country have complained that owing to the difference in time the foreign grain markets have been able to take advantage of the Government figures to the discomfiture of the Despatches published yesterday by R. G.

In many cases, especially as to cats and hay, In many cases, especially as to cats and nay, despatches show that much of the yield is already safely secured, while a week of favorable weather has greatly improved the outlook for many agricultural staples.

Washington, Aug. 10.—The crop estimating board of the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Agriculture finds from the reports of the correspondents and agents of the bureau as follows:

The condition of corn on Aug. 1 was 89.

veit to Cincinnati and referring to Congressman Rhinock. When Congressman Rhinock learned of the death of Criswell he immediately notified the District Attorney's office that he would come to this city and procedule Irving instead.

Irving is the publisher of the New Yorker and owns twenty shares of the stock. He was one of the solicitors for "Fads and Fancies," published by Town Topics. He and Criswell were the prime movers in the Social Editors' Society which is getting out "America's Foremost Families.

Irving was arraigned before Magistrate Breen in the Tombs police court and held in $1,000 heil for examination on Monday. He was locked up in the Tombs.

in $1,000 bail for examination on Monday. He was locked up in the Tombs.
Congressman Rhinock is very bitter about the article in the New Yorker and wants to see some one punished. He had a talk with Assistant District Attorney Krotel yesterday and announced that he would spend $5,000 to have George M. Roe brought to this city from California. Roe has written a letter to the Congressman in which he says that he furnished to Criswell the information on which the article about Miss Roosevelt, Nicholas Longworth and Congressman Rhinock was written.

he says that he never showed Roe any such indictment, and that there is no such indictment in existence.
